Trustee's Report

In making this report, the first of the second decade of our library, we are glad to be able to state that the interest and use of the library continues to increase.

Almost as many cards have been issued and books taken as in any previous year notwithstanding the falling off in our population. This is partly owing to the increased use of library books by the schools in town.

We wish to correct a misapprehension that exists to some extent, that the library consists mostly of cheap fiction. On the contrary we have quite a large per cent of standard history, biography and reference books in various lines. Such histories as Hume, McCauley and Knight of England, Bancroft and various later works of United States, Ridpath of the World, Prescott and Washington Irving's works, Lossing's Field Books of the Revolution, of the war of 1812 and the Civil war. We also have standard fiction, Walter Scott, Dickens, Charles Reade, George Elliott, Cooper, Ring and others, The Stoddard Lectures, Winning the West by Roosevelt and many others.

We will continue the same liberal policy towards our summer residents.

We thank all who have given books to the library and recommend the same to others.

We trust the town will be liberal towards the library, that it may continue to grow in the future.

ELLA M. PATTEE,
HENRY CUMINGS,

Library Trustees.

REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of Schools

It is our pleasure to report that the work of the schools for this year has been very satisfactory. The spirit of co-operation manifested on the part of the members of the school board, the teachers, parents, pupils and citizens has been especially encouraging. The faithful work done by the members of our teaching force is deserving of special commendation. Under such conditions we cannot fail to secure excellent results.

It has been our aim not to introduce new subjects or fads, but to teach more thoroughly the fundamentals. We have laid particular stress upon the teaching of reading, writing, arithmetic and spelling and the results obtained have been most satisfactory. Our schools have turned out some good penman, but we want to see a large majority of the pupils with this accomplishment, which is a strong recommendation for any position. We have come to see that drawing from copy books can never develop rapid business penmanship. We must see that our pupils get away from the slow finger movement so frequently seen and master by faithful practice the muscular movement, which will result in increased legibility, rapidity, ease and endurance in writing. Poor and slow writing is a serious loss to all the school subjects. We have revived and emphasized the teaching of mental arithmetic, a valuable subject, the teaching of which has been somewhat neglected. Daily work has been required in this subject and the records of the pupils kept on charts designed for that purpose. As the work has improved in this subject a noticeable improvement has been seen in the work of written arithmetic and other subjects. Most of us do not need so much the ability to solve the difficult and unusual mathematical problems found in text-books as the ability to solve quickly and accurately the many problems which occur in the routine of our daily work. We are living you know, in the "age of greatest efficiency."

We found that the regularity of attendance of the pupils in the town, which is shown by the per cent of attendance, was below the average of the county last year. This is not, of course, a desirable position to hold and we have made a special effort to increase the regularity of attendance with the following results :

Per Centage of Attendance

* Not including members of the school board.

 For year.

The above shows that a good gain has been made in most of the schools. At the same time it is seen that there is need of greater co-operation required on the part of the parents in some schools, before the desired results are secured. Irregular attendance by some pupils is detrimental to the progress of the others, and it also shows that there is not the most economical expenditure of the school money. One of the most encouraging things which we find in the above table, is the large increase in the number of visits by parents and others. Why do not the parents visit our schools more? The owner of some valuable stock would not leave the sole care of it to a helper. Apparently some parents place the care of their stock above that of their children. Parents may say that they cannot judge of the quality of the teaching being done. If they are not experts in this they can learn by visiting if the pupils are interested in their work, if the spirit of the school is the best, if the pupils are acquiring those habits of self control, moral rectitude, proper respect for the rights of others, and all the other habits which stand for character building and the highest type of citizenship.

The High School continues to grow both in the extent of its course and in the number of pupils enrolled. The school now has a course of four years' work, approved by the State Department of Education. There was an entering class of thirteen members, who with the members of the other classes, made an enrollment of twenty-five students. There will be at least thirty students in the school another year. We have been served by a most faithful corps of teachers and excellent work has been done.

We would give the following suggestions for our teachers:

Watchwords for Teachers

Have a definite aim.

Arrange a good program.

Outline your work for each day.

Make thorough preparation.

Rest your pupils occasionally.

Keep a clean schoolroom.

Keep your own desk in good condition.

Put neat work on the blackboard.

Decorate your schoolroom.

Watch your playground.

Watch your personal appearance.

Consult with your pupils' parents.

Teach politeness by precept and example.

Have some definite rules for excusing your pupils from the room.

Hold some valuable celebrations during the year, as "parents' day," when an exhibition of school work may be made.

In conclusion I wish to express my appreciation of the kind co-operation received from the members of the school board, the parents, citizens, teachers and pupils. The most satisfactory results can be secured only when there is a unanimity of action.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS A. ROBERTS,

Superintendent.

Mr. Evon's janitor's bill has been deducted from his rent account.

We wish to remind readers that the same condition which make vacant tenements, make vacant office and sleeping rooms in the block.

We have made a practice of buying a year's supply of coal in April, thereby securing the lowest possible price and this year expect to be obliged to make expensive repairs on the roof, so feel that the cash on hand is no more than it should be at this time.

Please remember that the entire upper floor was leased for 99 years by Mr. Copeland to Helping Hand Lodge, I. O. O. F., for $1.00 per year, this also includes repairs and water rent.

Enfield, N. H., Feb. 28, 1912.
